

Oliver Twist

by Charles Dickens

Charles Dickens's social novel follows a young orphan through the grim London underworld, exposing the cruelty of the workhouse system and street crime with unforgettable Victorian prose.

Rank #9

Elite 10

Power Words

#	WORD	DEFINITION
1	cunningly	adv. in a way that is clever and tricky. "The Artful Dodger cunningly slipped through the marketplace crowd, leaving no trace of his nimble-fingered work behind."
1	contemptible	adj. deserving of scorn or dislike. "The magistrate regarded the trembling orphan as contemptible, unworthy of the court's patience or its charity."
1	cowering	v. to crouch down in fear or shame. "Oliver stood cowering in the corner as Fagin's sharp eyes swept the room, counting every stolen handkerchief."
1	degrading	adj. causing a loss of self-respect or dignity. "Oliver endured every degrading task assigned to him, yet his gentle spirit refused to be entirely broken."
1	destitute	adj. lacking basic necessities like food and shelter. "The destitute children huddled together in the workhouse yard, their thin coats no match for the bitter cold."
1	dispossessed	adj. having lost possession of something valuable. "Oliver was entirely dispossessed, stripped of name, family, and fortune by those who conspired against his birth."
1	hypocritical	adj. behaving in a way that contradicts one's beliefs. "The parish authorities were hypocritical in their charity, advertising generosity while delivering only cruelty and gruel."
1	manipulate	v. to control or influence something skillfully. "Fagin could manipulate the youngest children with extraordinary skill, binding them to his service before they knew it."
1	mercilessly	adv. in a way that shows no mercy or kindness. "Sikes mercilessly drove the boy through the freezing streets, indifferent to his exhaustion or his terror."
1	relentlessly	adv. in a way that does not stop or give up. "The authorities pursued the pickpocket gang relentlessly through the fog-choked alleys of the Seven Dials."
1	squalid	adj. very dirty and unpleasant; neglected. "The squalid lodging house where Fagin kept his charges reeked of damp straw and long-extinguished tallow candles."
1	trembling	adj. shaking or quivering from fear or excitement. "Oliver stood trembling before the board of governors, his empty bowl extended in that unforgettable act of asking."
1	tyrannical	adj. behaving in a cruel and absolute way. "The tyrannical beadle strutted through the workhouse halls, delighting in every misery his authority could inflict."
1	unscrupulous	adj. without scruples or principles "Monks proved entirely unscrupulous, willing to destroy an innocent child to secure an inheritance he felt was his."
1	vindictive	adj. having or showing a strong desire for revenge. "Monks grew increasingly vindictive as each scheme to ruin Oliver unravelled before it could reach its cruel end."